“I’ve worked with Herzog for over a decade in solar photovoltaic installations and maintenance. From this experience I know we can count on Herzog to deliver high-quality installations. Herzog’s O&M team has proven they can handle any operational problems that come up with efficiency to help us keep our energy production optimized.”

“Trane has been working with Eric Antoine for more than 10 years now. He has always been easy to work with from requests for pricing through the close out of the project. He and his crew are always on time, honest and provide great workmanship. Their pricing is fair and competitive for the marketplace. They are always willing to work with you no matter the time crunch or request needed. I highly recommend Eric and his team at Herzog Electric for all low voltage electrical needs, especially in relation to low voltage controls work.”

“I wanted to take a moment to express my gratitude for the professionalism of the MB Herzog Electric crews that have worked on my projects. Their familiarity of building automation systems and attention to detail has earned them my trust and loyalty. Having Herzog on my project bring with it a sense of comfort. I can rest easy knowing that any potential issues will be addressed before they become a liability - for either of us. Herzog brings the added invaluable intangibles of knowledge base, years of experience and leadership to the project. I will continue to bring them onto my projects for as long as I continue to work in the industry.”
